Bridal boutique Love & Lace has opened in downtown Honolulu, offering brides-to-be an exclusive curated collection of quality gowns in an intimate, personalized setting.

"In my quest to find a dress for my own wedding, I realized Hawaii was lacking a certain genre of dresses that could appeal to many potential brides," says owner Janna Frash of the motivation for her new business. "Love & Lace is for the simple, chic and modern bride. We specialize in uncomplicated and subtle dresses that are meant to enhance a bride's style and personality.

"We carry dresses that are perfect for everything from a beach ceremony, rustic and bohemian themes, or a formal affair. The three brands we feature are exclusive to Love & Lace in Hawaii — Sarah Seven and Amy Kuschel are based in San Francisco, and Sarah Janks from Australia."

In addition to gowns, Love & Lace also offers a selection of bridal accessories from Untamed Petals, such as beaded bridal sashes, veils, silk flowers and headpieces.

Love & Lace is located at 1127 Bethel St. #11 (across from Hawaii Theatre), and is open, by appointment only, seven days a week. For more information, visit loveandlacehawaii.com or call 230-3794.
